

CALL FOR SPONSORS/EXHIBITORS

March 15 – 21, 2009 is National Surveyors Week. The Florida Surveyors Festival is a premier event that celebrates this week and promotes the surveying and mapping profession. This unique event takes place on March 21st, at Brevard County's F. Burton Smith Park, in Cocoa, Florida. The festival attracts people from all parts of Florida; is a family-friendly, fun filled and educational event. (See the attached flyer).

Sponsorship is very important for the success of the festival. Sponsorship dollars not only allow us to fund the event, but to keep the cost affordable for attendees.

We need your help. Please consider becoming a sponsor and/or exhibitor at the festival. We realize that this may be a financially challenging year. However, every contribution helps, large or small.

This year we developed an aggressive public relations/advertisement plan that we anticipate will increase festival attendance to 1200 or more people. You will want to take advantage of this festival to market your company and/or product in a more relaxed atmosphere.

All sponsorship dollars and donated merchandise go exclusively to the production of the Florida Surveyors Festival. For more information, please visit our web site at www.spacecoast-fsms.com.

Thank you in advance for any contribution you give in the celebration and promotion of the Florida Surveyor's Festival and the surveying and mapping profession, and we look forward to hearing from you.
